CAMPUS COGNIZANCE

Jaagooo Zaaaaa !!!

Students with Music or Dance as Passion, this note is especially for you. The days where clubs like Dyuthi, IEEE, IETE, sports etc are touting in the college, where are the people good at arts? Management is trying to encourage all the talents widely in the college. As you all know, Dyuthi which is the social club of VBIT is a fast uprising student club ever in VBIT. IEEE, another student club which has a National appreciation established in 2004 in our college by our first batch of the college, also has a reputed position in the chronicle of the college. VBIT has bundle of talent, so people good at Music or Dance or any such talent are notably encouraged!! So expecting an arts club soon in the college which would be a HIT too!!!

The most super ACTIVE committee formed this year is the "DISCIPLINARY COMMITTEE" headed by ONE of the most active faculties. So, friends had your guesses of who the HEAD exactly is? A meeting was held on the 1st of July and fortunately or unfortunately (for students) many conclusions were made. It was a meeting between the faculty, management and the class representatives. Well, the gist of the meeting as you all know already is as follows:

1. ID cards must, once you enter the college. (Only should be seen hung around your neck!!! Matter is very serious by the way. You are watched everywhere, even when you are going to the!).
2. Boys, Tuck is a BIG must. (Tuck, Tuck, Tuck!!! That's all.)
3. Formals should be worn only five days a week, Saturday you can have anything.
4. Last but not the least, must follow! Which is the most unnoticed notice in our college is the usage of mobiles. Strict rule is that mobiles must be switched off as you enter the campus; any one caught using his/her mobile, the Committee will sue you!

All the rules are the same since the establishment of the college, but the $%&*@ part is that, the management is very very serious about them this time and the student who fails to follow them is fined. (Fine may be increased like HELL.) And the money goes to the NSS. So friends, contribute to NSS. ;) Kidding!!

Committee is watching you.

Tip for you!!!

Silence Please @ Library

Library Before: There was no need of a compulsory registration for your presence in the library then. Not many "Silence please" boards (Only 1 I guess). All the tables and chairs were arranged, such that they were pretty adjacent to each other, very much convenient for students to jabber. When not attending classes that was the most convenient place to freak because when asked why you aren't in the class, the student smartly replies I am studying in the library. Meetings were conducted in the library before.

Well, now the library has taken a very NEW guise. And of course, the credit goes to our new librarian. We shall now see the amendments made in the new library (the position has not changed, but the discipline levels of the library have slightly increased).

Library Now: The first step into the library, turn right and you'll find a table you need to register yourself marking your presence. Hey, that's very much mandatory folks. Then take an overall look at the library you will find 4-5 "Silence Please" boards. You will also notice that, they are well- nigh serious about these boards. Outside, the library you will find few tables and chairs arranged and newspapers scattered on the table. Thus, it means that is the only place where you need to read the newspapers, not to carry them into the library. Speaking about the library- inside, there would be a pin drop silence, that's so much if you drop a pin you will hear the echo of the sound. Fine, for not returning the book is very compulsory. The tables and chairs are arranged in such a manner that students can no more gibber. Meetings are banned, as they include sound pollution. No student should stay for more time unless and until he has no classes (The class timetable is verified here, careful). Bags are not to be carried in, or else you will be suspected if any book or a paper is missing in the library!

Thus, conclusion is that the discipline levels in the college are very much increased. That's all to keep up the reputation of the college and conduct of the students.

THE RAIN

From the dark clouds waiting to condense
From the gods as a savior and a blessing
From the unending skies as a gift of nature
From the prayers of millions in need

Into the lands of bankrupt peasants
Into the rivers flooding with happiness
Into the streets of the most unwanted
Into the world to cure all the diseases

The moment those tiny droplets kiss the land
The moment those tiny droplets turn into noise
The moment those tiny droplets fulfill the needs
The moment those tiny droplets halt the normal life

Then my heart pounds with excitement
Then the birds sing their favorite tunes
Then the winds roar with thirst
Then the world dances to the tunes of the rain.

GOSSIPS

~~Hopefully the college management has done something towards the placements for the final year. Hehe..!!~~

The weekly activities have kicked off..... But this time SUCCESSFULLY...!! Yip-pee...!!

Since 21st July, we have got to see the decent side of all the student's of the college...!! (Remember rules are being implemented...)

The new canteen is a welcome change to all students... Sadly the students are missing the Flies and Rats...!! Hehe..!

Thankfully the waiting room has got a little furnishing. Phew.. Finally...!! Times for us girls for a celebration...(in the waiting room..???)

I THINK I'VE FOUND THE NEW OPENER WE'VE BEEN LOOKING FOR

The Prof.G.RamPrasad Memorial Cricket Tournament is going to take place between August 8-18. Hopefully the students respect our late Principal and play peacefully.

An amazing movie... old story but refreshingly brought to the audience... A must-watch movie. That's Jaane Tu... Ya Jaane Na for you..!!

Coming Soon :-

A freshers for the juniors. I think they have been looking forward to it for quite a long time.

All the watchmen have been replaced now...!!!

Fight was sufficient for VBIT...hope let us not repeat things like this...

Think n think...

Here is an image which contains so many things to make u think guys!!
 so ,have a look and try to figure out as many blocks as possible.....

Dare to be dare to believe – Helix

Helix is the student association which started with the simple intention of creating a forum for engineering students to ease their minds of the mundane college life, where they could relax and casually talk about their passions. Having withstood the test of time, the group slowly opened to more people from diverse backgrounds and varying age groups. The forums agenda includes the sessions like book reviews , group discussions, debates, extempore, case studies on various issues of the contemporary world ,games & many more. This is a wonderful platform for young people to meet and learn from their peers in a very constructive manner. Analysis and feedback are given to every reviewer each week that helps in improving ourselves in public speaking and soft skills. Outdoor sessions are sometimes held where members go rock climbing or trekking and experience the best of nature. These sessions are quite useful in tuning a student's mind to be more inquisitive and creative.

Place: opposite Indira park, lower tank bund.

Time: every Sunday, 3:00 PM.

Fee: Nill.

LOW WAIST or UNDER WAIST

“Low waists”, the so called trendy wear these days is going on hype now. People are actually confused of what exactly is this “Low waist”, few of them are unable to make out the difference between a normal pant (they are pulled down and wore) and low waist pants. Guys, we do agree you are posh but you distracting people behind you. Let we explain what exactly a low waist pant is defined as:

A pant designed, reflecting the” COOL” attitude and which fits on the waist and is low which is ultimately posh.

Rules:

1. The normal jeans are not worn Low Waist or “Under Waist” (Note thisL)

Buy separate jeans which are termed as Low Waist in the market. (Don't design on you own).

Branded Low Waist Jeans:

Finally, we researched into low waist jeans only for you “Guys”. Hope this would be very useful to you in selecting or managing your dresses.

Conclusion:

DIGITAL TATTOO INTERFACE

Hi folks! Here is an interesting topic which is a recent development in electronics field let's have a look on that...

It is all about a tattoo...wait guys don't think that it is normal tattoo it is a tattoo of size 2x4-inch which is called "Digital Tattoo Interface" a Bluetooth device made of thin, flexible silicon and silicone. It is inserted through a small incision as a tightly rolled tube, and then it unfurls beneath the skin to align between skin and muscle. Through the same incision, two small tubes on the device are attached to an artery and a vein to allow the blood to flow to a coin-sized blood fuel cell that converts glucose and oxygen to electricity. After blood flows from the artery to the fuel cell, it flows out again through the vein.

The tattoo display communicates wirelessly to other Bluetooth devices - both in the outside world and within the same body. Although the device is always on (as long as your blood's flowing), the display can be turned off and on by pushing a small dot on the skin. When the phone rings, for example, an individual turns the display on, and "the tattoo comes to life as a digital video of the caller," Mielke explains. When the call ends, the tattoo disappears.

On both the top and bottom surfaces of the display is a matching matrix of field-producing pixels. The top surface also enables touch-screen control through the skin. Instead of ink, the display uses tiny microscopic spheres, somewhat similar to tattoo ink. A field-sensitive material in the spheres changes their color from clear to black, aligned with the matrix fields.

Could such an invasive device have harmful biological effects? Actually, the device could offer health benefits. That's because it also continually monitors for many blood disorders, alerting the person of a health problem.

The tattoo display is still just a concept, with no word on plans for commercialization.

No network...No problem...!!!

Have you ever wondered what life would be if we never had any network problem...?how many times have you felt just to break open your mobile phone..? Finally here is something with which we can avoid all this... Yes you heard it right...! You can actually communicate with anyone and everyone even without any network coverage.

Want to know more of this ...??look out for our next issue...!!!

Ms. Narsing Yadav faculty of our college will be dealing with this topic...

Isn't this article is cool...Guys if you have this kind of article and if you want to publish in the new letter mail us at stutalk.vbit@yahoo.com

Please keep as technical in the subject when you mail...

Hello friends!!!..... I am very thankful to the management, staff and all the members who have supported to make XYLYX a grand success. I also want to thank our sponsors who are the main pillars of this event to make it a grand success. We have to organize more such events in our college collectively to make IEEE-VBIT student branch an active student branch in Hyderabad region.

We are planning to organize a workshop on LINUX in our college and a STUDENT CONGRESS is going to be held shortly in Hyderabad, a new congress name IEEE STUDENT WOMEN CONGRESS recently coming into picture in IEEE student session. I welcome all the members of IEEE-VBIT student branch to participate in these events also.

A special event name TENCON 2008 an international event is going to be held in Hyderabad and details for this event will be announced shortly. I invite all the IEEE members to join in IEEE-VBIT yahoo groups to know all the recent updates of our branch.

Hill Amigos

Isn't this issue good!! Let's make it more interesting and totally student involved from the next release guys. Releasing a bulletin involves lot of work, interest, creations especially!, etc....Therefore we need students who are versatile in writing gossips, making own stories, crazy in work and much more innovative in designing cover pages for a bulletin, in short a knack.

As already mentioned this time "stuTalk" has a few mutations which includes accepting articles in CDs and mails only, last date for submission of articles is 5th intimation on 8th of every month, send your article to stutalk.vbit@gmail.com. Feedbacks will be send to your respective emails, so kindly mention your name, branch, year and your mail id's. Friends, do you have any queries to the placement officer of our college? Any tips or any doubts regarding the placements of our college you need, email us; we shall take your word to him.

All you have to do is send them in the format below,
